Chase and Bill Mears created a charitable remainder trust for the benefit of the Foundation. The Trust was set up to distribute a fixed annual payment to Bill and Chase throughout their lives. Ultimately, the “beneficiary” of the Trust will come to the Ascoolck Foundation.

Food and Fandip Tap also established a charitable remainder trust. The Trust was structured so that after Fandip died in 1988, Mv. Tlp received an annuity income from his investments. Upon Mv. Tlp death a thirty-five year annuity, the money came to the Ascoolck Foundation. Once the money was disbursed, the Foundation received an annuity income of $300,000.

Fred and Kathy Ramseyer and their children have committed $100,000 over 10 years to the Ascoolck Foundation through their estate planning program through the Foundation. Their bequest amounts to a $250,000 principal amount, plus additional income through the remainder unitrust.

The Board of Trustees established an annual lecture series in Steven’s memory, using the income from the gift to support the series.

State Senator and Delegate John Thomas Perretta left a bequest of $5,000 to the Ascoolck Foundation. His gift helped to sustain the Foundation’s land conservancy work.
